DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 14-16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 6.
2. Applicant's election with traverse of invention 1 in Paper No. 6 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims are so interrelated that the search for one invention would overlap the search of the other. This is not found persuasive because the requirements for the brush produced by the method, i.e. that the brush have a base and bristles made of the same material and injection molded, as opposed to unitary, or injection molded of different materials, would require a different search than that for a unitary brush, or a brush made with different materials. While some parts of the search may overlap, there is still the required search for both inventions on those limitations which are not mutually cited.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3723

4. Claims 1-7, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Barber, Jr. et al, 5,518,794. The examiner considers the disclosed brush to be "unitary", in that the bristles and hub form a unit.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Barber, Jr. et al, '794.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2). Claim 8 limits the second coating to a material selected from the group consisting of polyurethanes, epoxy resins, and acrylate resins. '794 does not disclose the particular material of the second coating. Please refer to column 23, lines 56-58. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided '794 with a specific plastic, as claimed, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

In re Leshin stated in part

Mere selection of known plastics to make container-dispenser of a type made of plastics prior to the invention, the selection of the plastics being on basis of suitability for intended use, is obvious.

As it was known to make coatings of plastic, as taught by '794, the selection of a known plastic such as polyurethane, or epoxy or acrylate resins on the basis of its suitability for its intended use would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time the invention was made.

8. Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Barber Jr. et al '794 in view of Johnson et al, '5,679,067.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2). '794 does not disclose that the brush is made by injection molding, but does disclose that the various parts of the bristle and hub may be made of moldable materials. '076, figure 8, teaches that it is old and well known to make a brush including base and bristles by injection molding. It would have been obvious to have made the brush of '794 by injection molding as taught by '067, to provide a brush that is easily and inexpensively manufactured yet durable. See column 2, lines 56-59.
